Correspondence

(2) Il Professore Ambrosini, Director of Education throughout Piedmont expressing his great admiration of the Nature Study as followed in the U.S. & his hope of translating some of the books we use into Italian.

(c) The Secondary Schools Association protesting against the proposal of the Board of Education to establish examinations for the Fifth & Sixth Forms to be taken in every Sec. School recognised for Grants.

- (1) To establish in every Secondary School recognised for Grants two new External Examinations of Grades suitable for the Fifth and Sixth Forms respectively, to be taken annually in every School and to be conducted by a University, but the standard to be fixed by the Board of Education and to be substantially equivalent throughout the country.
- (2) To reserve the right of prohibiting every such Secondary School from preparing pupils for other External Examinations except with the special permission of the Board of Education.

The Board of Education are no doubt aware of the difficulty and the undesirability of establishing a new system of Examinations affecting Secondary Schools without the cordial co-operation of those who manage and control those Schools. But assuming that the Board's scheme were so altered as to give the Local Education Authorities an adequate share in shaping and controlling the proposed Examinations, there would remain the difficulty underlying any scheme for the establishment of a single standard for all Secondary Schools, and as the scheme stands, a substantially equivalent standard is to be applied to all Grant-aided Secondary Schools, irrespective of differences of aim, of locality, of the ages and character of the pupils. It follows that any such standard must be a low one, as it would be manifestly inequitable to expect pupils in a young Municipal Secondary School, who leave at a comparatively early age, to reach a standard which would be suitable in a long-established School with an organisation that has stood the test of time, and where the pupils continue their education to the age of 18 or 19. But the combination of a low standard with a wide choice would inevitably lead to the choice of easy subjects—"Soft Options"—and the neglect of more difficult ones. It is feared, therefore, that any common standard would thus lead to a levelling down and not to a levelling up of school work.

(a) Mr. Wilfred M. Webb expressing with regret his resignation, owing to the impossibility of received the message with great regret & desired that a letter should be written to Mr. Webb thanking him for many services rendered to the society.

Mr. Franklin said that the committee were very glad indeed to welcome Mr. Fyfe on the Branch Reports.

It was hoped to hold the next Conference as early as possible in July, the Council of Bedford College being willing to allow that College to be used as soon as the summer term ended.

Lady Campbell kindly consented to write this. It was decided to keep the same quotations on the cover ^{which was to be} ~~to be~~ either lilac or orange.

The lectures had been most interesting but the attendance was disappointing, being under 100.

Branch Reports. Bronley, Mrs. Clark had told her Patriotic Stories to a good audience of children & adults. Mrs. de Quincey was hoping to start a branch in Chislehurst, leaving it up to the Bronley members, but the Committee considered it wiser to wait until one could be sure of making it a real success.

Onley Mr. Douglas Wilson had given a lecture on Natural History, which had been extremely well attended.

Huddersfield also reported a most successful lecture on Nat. Hist. from Mrs. Simpson.

London Branch. Mr. Franklin reported a very fine lecture on the War, for young people, by Sir Ed. Parrott.

Brondesbury. Mr. Douglas Wilson said it seemed better to attempt no meetings for the present.
